

THE GREYHOUND

PUBLISHED BI-WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. IX

BALTIMORE, MD., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1935

No. 3

SENIORS SPONSOR DANCE TO WELCOME FRESHMEN

GIVEN IN COLLEGE LIBRARY

First Social Event Held For
The Benefit of 1936
Year Book

Friday, October 25th, marked the opening of the social season at Loyola. On that night, the College Library was the scene of The Freshman Welcoming Dance, given by the Senior Class for the benefit of the Year Book.

The Seniors, by holding a dance for this purpose at such an early date, have to some extent started something new at Loyola. Never before has the graduating class acted so promptly on behalf of the publication of a Year Book.

Seeming to appreciate this effort of the upperclassmen, the student body responded heartily to make the affair a success from all angles. More than a hundred couples crowded the Library to dance to the music of the Midshipmen. John White, '39, is a co-manager and member of the orchestra.

The dance committee, composed of Sheene, the chairman, McAleer, Vogel, Gromacki, Dolle, Dinan and C. B. Kelly should be complimented for their work in giving to the College one of the best smaller class dances held in recent years.

Refreshments were served during the course of the evening in the cafeteria.

STUDENT COUNCIL REORGANIZES AT FIRST MEETING OF MEMBERS

FRANK MUTH IS PRESIDENT

Under the leadership of Frank Muth, Senior Class President, the Loyola Student Council recently held its first meeting for the purpose of reorganization. The Council, which is the student governing body, is composed of both ex-officio and elected members. Mr. Muth, who is President of the Council by virtue of his office of Senior Class President, appointed William White secretary of the Council.

The elected members of the Council are: Albert Vogel, William Sheene, and Edward Monroe, Seniors; Donald Powers and William White, Juniors; Joseph Costello and Harry Bremer, Sophomores.

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

OBIT

Blue Rock, one of Loyola's Greyhound mascots, met an untimely demise last week when he was killed in a fight with another dog on the campus in front of the gymnasium. This leaves Kingo, the brown 'hound, to carry on as the College's only talisman at future athletic contests.

These two thoroughbred greyhounds were presented to Loyola last fall by Mrs. John J. Raskob, of Centerville, Maryland, wife of the former Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

FATHER SCHMITT ANNOUNCES CHEMISTRY LECTURE PROGRAM

DR. MARTIN SPEAKS TODAY

New Librarians For Chemists'
Club Appointed By Head
Of Chemistry Dept.

The program of lectures by non-resident speakers to be presented by the Loyola Chemists' Club during the coming year was announced recently by Father Richard B. Schmitt, head of the Chemistry Department. The lectures will take place monthly at 2:30 P.M., in Room 210, Science Building.

Once lecture has already been delivered by Dr. Donald V. Cooney, M.D., Professor of Neurology at Columbia University Medical School, who spoke on "The Crossroads of Chemistry and Medicine."

Dr. Glenn L. Martin, Ph.D., Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry at the University of Maryland, will speak on "The Evolution of Iatro-Chemistry" on October 29.

Dr. Hugh S. Taylor, D.Sc., Director of Chemical Research at Princeton University, who spoke here last year on "The Isotopes of Hydrogen" has chosen for his subject this year "Catalysis at Reaction Surfaces." He will deliver his talk on November 14.

On December 3, Dr. William M. Thornton, Jr., Ph.D., Associate in Chemistry at Johns Hopkins University, will lecture on "General and Industrial Chemistry of Titanium."

Lectures in 1936

The first lecture of 1936 will be delivered on January 14, by Dr. E. Emmet Reid, Ph.D., LL.D., of Johns Hopkins University, who will speak on "The Melting Points of Series of Organic Compounds". The next speaker will be Dr. E. Gas-

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

LOYOLA NEWS

Sodality Elections Today

Today, at 12:10, in Room 201 of the Library Building, there will be a meeting of the Sodality, at which the officers will be chosen from those nominated by the various classes.

Debaters to Meet

The Bellarmine Debating Society will hold its first debate tomorrow, October 30. The Subject will be: Resolved: That the Italian Government, by reason of necessity, precedent and the claims of civilization has a right to exercise territorial sovereignty over Ethiopia. Charles L. Bokenmeyer, '37 and Eugene Jendrek, '36, will speak for the affirmative, and William Little, '37 and Raymond Cooper, '36 will uphold the negative.

Students Welcome

Anyone interested in debating, whether a member of the society or not, is welcome to attend the debate which will be held in Room 201 of the Library Building.

Loyola Men Win Awards

Mr. Edwin Gehring, '38, and Mr. Philip D'Ambrogi, '39, have proven that college and hobbies mix. In the Baltimore Hobby Show, held at the Enoch Pratt Library, October 8th to the 12th, Mr. Gehring placed first, second and third in different exhibits and Mr. D'Ambrogi was awarded an honorable mention in Clay Modeling.

Gehring Wins Award

Mr. Gehring's first was for photographic enlargements. His exhibit in Indian Lore scored second place. Also, in this class was entered a group by the Teton Indians, of whom Mr. Gehring is a member. This exhibit received the added distinction of being the most educational of the entire hobby show. The third place was for a series of leaf prints of various Maryland leaves.

Promoted By Kiwanians

The Hobby Show was promoted by the Kiwanis Club of Baltimore, under the chairmanship of Dr. Lloyd M. Keller. Young people, between the ages of nine and twenty years were eligible for entry. Its purpose was "to create further interest in hobbies and to direct more people into the choice of a good hobby, for leisure time enjoyment."

CALENDAR

Oct. 29—Sodality Election Meeting 12:10.

Chem Lecture. Dr. Glenn L. Jenkins, Ph.D., on "The Evolution of Iatro-Chemistry."

First Basketball Practice 2:45.

Oct.—Bellarmine Debating Society Meeting.

Nov. 1—Feast of All Saints: Holiday.

Nov. 6—Bellarmine Debating Society Meeting.

JUNE GRADUATES PICK VARIOUS BUSINESSES AND PROFESSIONS

MANY PURSUITS INCLUDED

Graduate Students Numerous At Local Medical And Law Institutions

With the advent of another school year, many of the latest additions to the alumni roster, namely the members of the class of nineteen-hundred and thirty-five, have entered the business and professional life of Baltimore and other cities. Others are going in for further study in law, medicine, and various professions.

The first branch of the tree of graduates consists of those studying medicine. In this field are:—

Ray Cunningham, at the University of Maryland Medical School on a scholarship. Others attending this same school are: James Cianos, Bill Fusting, Mel Polek, and Bill Kammer.

Jim Shea, former sports editor of the Greyhound, has gone a long way in search of success. Jim is down in Houston, Texas, working in the oil fields. Success to you, Jimmy, strike it rich!

Jack Cochrane, Ed Lubinski and Larry Slowik are studying law. Jack commutes daily to Georgetown, while Ed and Larry attend classes at the University of Maryland Evening School.

Frank Wright, of Wright or Wrong fame, is now employed by Montgomery Ward and Company.

Price Colvin, former Green and Gray tennis and basketball star, now has a position with the Triangle Sporting Goods Company.

Jim Costello and Frank

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

FR. CHARLES CONNOR IS LOYOLA RETREAT MASTER

WORLD WAR CHAPLAIN

Relates Experiences To Illustrate Subjects
Of Discourses

The annual students' retreat for 1935 began on October 22 with Mass in the college Chapel. Father Charles F. Connor, S.J., the retreat master, is a native of New York City, and attended Xavier College there. Holy Cross College, Xavier High School of New York, Ateneo Di Manila, and St. Joseph's, Philadelphia are some of the places at which Father Connor has taught. He held the office of Prefect of Studies at St. Joseph's and at the Ateneo and was Prefect of Discipline at Gonzaga High. During the World War, he served in France and Germany as army chaplain.

Father Connor, at the very outset, stressed the importance of the fact that no one could make the retreat for the students, they must do it themselves. He urged them to try to know themselves, know their weakness, and then overcome that weakness.

Military Man

Father Connor, who was once a head of a Catholic military school, and who has been in close contact with military men, drew numerous examples from that field to drive home more firmly to the students his points. Moreover, he drew

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 5)

ALUMNI MEMBERS PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF FATHER OOGHE

ATTEND MASS IN CHAPEL

Showing a fine spirit of loyalty to their alma mater and a true devotion to a former teacher, more than fifty members of the Loyola College Alumni Association were present at the Memorial Mass and Communion held in honor of the late Justin J. Ooghe, S.J., which was offered in the Chapel of St. Francis Xavier at Evergreen, on Sunday morning, October 20th. The Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Thomas J. Love, S.J., faculty representative of the association. Mr. George Renahan, '18, former president of the alumni, was the server.

The consecration of the Ooghe Memorial Chalice preceded the Mass. This ceremony

(Continued on Page 4, Col. 4)

THE GREYHOUND

LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. IX Baltimore, Maryland No. 3

Editor-in-Chief

EUGENE F. JENDREK, '36

Managing Editor

LAWRENCE T. MULLEN, '37

Sports Editor

ANDREW E. CICHELLI, '36

Circulation Manager

CHARLES C. CONLON, JR., '38

Advertising Manager

JOSEPH J. MACK, '37

Associate Editors

JOHN J. DINAN, '36

WILLIAM J. O'DONNELL, '37

Departments

WILLIAM D. MCGONIGLE, '37

WILLIAM E. WHITE, '37

ROBERT B. MAGUIRE, '36

News Staff

F. KENNARD DILL, '36

JOHN H. DOLLE, '36

JOSEPH B. AARON, '38

CHARLES O. FISHER, '38

EDWIN A. GEHRING, '38

Published Bi-Weekly

Subscription $2.00

To The Alumni

In our last issue there was an account of the election of the new officers of the Alumni Association. Due to lack of time we were unable to express editorially our congratulations to them, but though belated, would like now to wish Mr. O'Shea and the other officers every success in guiding the undertakings of Loyola's graduate group during the coming year. The meeting at which the elections took place was one of the best in point of attendance, accomplishment and manifestation of interest in Loyola that has ever been held at Evergreen. As one alumnus of a good many years back remarked, "At last we are getting some of the younger men interested." Anyone who was present at that meeting could see the truth of this.

There is a sort of "Old Guard" group of loyal alumni to whom credit is due for having been for many years the backbone of the organization. They attended the College when it was on Calvert Street and when a graduating class of ten was considered large for Loyola. In no small measure they are responsible for what the Alumni Association stands for today. Within the last ten years or so, as the number of students completing the four year course has increased, they have seen the fulfillment of long-cherished hopes as the Alumni Association has gained in activity and membership with the influx of these "Evergreen graduates." Thus with the more mature, but none the less keen enthusiasm of the older grads working along with that of the more recent alumni, we can foresee the most representative and active Alumni Association in the history of the College.

A Tribute

While we are on the subject of the alumni, we feel it only fair to mention that the labor and interest of Father Thomas J. Love, S.J., Faculty Representative of the Alumni Association, is one of the reasons responsible for the success of recent projects of that association. That is our personal observation. Father Love has often told, and even ordered us, not to mention his name in connection with the alumni, but we have seen him working and then have seen the results of his work; in strict justice, therefore, we must acknowledge that he has accomplished much.

The collection of the gold and jewels from alumni and friends of Loyola for the memorial chalice to Father Justin J. Ooghe was due almost entirely to Father Love and his devotion to the memory of Loyola's former Professor of Philosophy. The splendid idea of the chalice as the most fitting way to honor and perpetuate the memory of Father Ooghe for future generations of Loyola men was, we believe, Father Love's, and it was due to his energies that the material was collected and placed in its present form, culminating two years of labor on Father Love's part.

His popularity with the alumni and the respect in which he is held was evident to even a casual observer at the election meeting. We wish publicly to pay tribute to Father Love, on behalf of the alumni and student body, for what he has done in making endure for many a long year the name of one of Loyola's most eminent teachers, Father Justin J. Ooghe.

Campus Clippings

W. W.

Now that we may have a real dramatic group at Loyola, we suggest that they produce first that saga of the sagebrush, "Rose of the Rancho, or, "Just Another Bum Steer."

* * *

A downtown theatre's advertisement of last week carried this blurb:—

The Dionne Quintuplets—See them play, coo, bathe, eat.

In the manner of Gelett Burgess
I've never "seen" a baby coo,
I've often "heard" one do it,
With Quints I guess it's revenue
That makes them go on through it.

* * *

Goose DeCesare claims to have originated this one, but it comes a little too early in the year for us to place credence in Goose. He calls the Philosophy Orals room the Metaphysics Lab.

* * *

Retreating Moments

Bill Sheene brushing past everybody right into Father Connor's confessional, and in a plenty big hurry too. * * * Thoughts on the one yard line, "Archibald, resist them." * * * 'you haven't got a weakness for drink, you've got a strong thirst for it' * * * a certain Freshman saying that if the string had broken at THAT moment, a mess of fried Traut would have resulted * * * Jerry Backen, so intent on that next to the last instruction, and looking vastly relieved * * * Selhorst, bellowing loudly in the rear, with strong Vogel accompaniment.

* * *

Willie Doyle of Freshman has just asked us if a soul of steel necessarily gives one a magnetic personality, and the best we can do in answer to that one is to let the Sophs in on it.

* * *

After Benediction, Charley Connor was asked why he didn't carry a candle during the service. He replied that he had enough weight to carry around. "But a candle would have made it lighter," his questioner persisted.

* * *

A state of war is hereby declared between this column and the editor of this sheet because of the refusal of the latter to print an article that would have started a swell controversy. Remember Ed, a heart of gold never made anyone yellow.

Evergreen Reflections

R. B. M.

Intramural Politics

SENIOR HOME ROOM, OCT. 7: Final returns on the election of Senior Representatives of the Student Council showed a clearly defined victory for its Radical Party. Voting en bloc, the Radicals, although slightly in the minority, lifted their three nominees into office by overwhelming pluralities. A. Theodore Vogel, one of the successful candidates and prominent Leftist, proclaimed the victory a decided setback for the Conservative administration forces and a stunning blow to their hope of gaining complete control. The other successful candidates were Edward George Monroe, Lithuanian biologists and agitator and William E. Sheene, Wildwood politician and suds-guzzler.

Mr. T. Tipton Leary, press agent for the Radical organization, described the election as a "triumph for the underdog."

"We Radicals", he said, "have been successfully squelched for many years. Of late we had almost given up hope of ever winning a major election. The first sign that the tide was turning in our favor came when Senator F. X. Wright came over to our side. Playing on the prestige of that name we induced a number of other leaders to throw in with us, among them Senor Alfredo Carozza, right hand man of Premier Mussolini; Big Bertha Becker, genial beer tank of the 10th Ward; James (Scotty) McAleer, Towson political boss, and the Hon. John Duley, Secretary of the Treasury."

Mr. Sheene could not be reached at his home for a statement of his views. It was said that he was attending a private victory banquet at Chez Anderson on York Road. Mr. Monroe, at work in his laboratory atop the sky-scraping Science Building, refused to be interviewed, saying that he was at work on a delicate experiment concerning the reasons why certain Paramecium Multimicronucleatum born of red haired parents were inclined to albinism.

President Muth, in a public statement, said that he hoped that no hard feelings were engendered by the election. "On the whole", he said, "we are glad to see this Radical success. It will provide just the right amount of opposition to insure the justice of all bills passed by the Council. All three representatives are known to me personally, and I can vouch for their sincerity."

* * *

Loyolan Breaks Record

The social lion of Loyola is roaring louder than ever this year. Charles B. (Christian Brother) Kelly, perennially the most eligible Loyola bachelor, will make his fifth straight debut at the coming Mission Crusade Dance. This in itself constitutes a new South Atlantic record and gives Kelly permanent possession of the hand tooled loving cup offered by the Married Mens' Club of Calvert Hall, Class of '32.

* * *

Observation

With the applause of those at the dance still sending shivers up and down their backs (and fingers), it looks as though "Gawge" and Dennis are destined to be a great team: "Gawge" to handle the artistic (?) end, and Dennis to take care of the receipts. We've heard "Gawge" swelling the walls of the Science Building, but we didn't realize what a dark town strutter that boy could be! Loyola will suffer a great loss when Cab Calloway hears that inimitable interpretation of "T'se in the Mood for l-o-v-e!"

Tragedy stalked the campus a week ago. In its wake it left the life-less body of Blue Rock, brother of Kingo, and co-inspiration of Loyola men and teams. Some will say that there is little difference between Blue Rock dead and Blue Rock alive; that in going to his rest he but preserved and enhanced his reputation for going slowly. But we who knew him well know differently. Blue Rock was a symbol. He was graceful and easy-going and if in future years Loyola men are graceful and easy-going, Blue Rock will rest content in the knowledge that he has done his job well. Even now there is reason to believe that the life of Blue Rock has not been in vain. The influence of his ways has reached all of us, and we all mourn him.

It is some small satisfaction to know that Kingo is left. But Kingo is not Blue Rock. Kingo has ambition, is faster moving than was his brother. He has less of the true Southern gentleman in his makeup and unless he improves quickly, will never be the inspiration Blue Rock was.

Chick's Chatter

A. E. C.

Basketball Returns to Campus

With November and its accompanying crisp weather right before us, the Loyola athlete thrusts aside all indoor balls and bats, tennis regalia and other outdoor sports' equipment in order that he may render his undivided attention to the nation's foremost indoor game, basketball. During this entire month, the Alumni Gymnasium is expected to be the scene of such activity that many an old grad should marvel at the display of enthusiasm to be found among "this modern youth". After missing the State championship in the play-offs last year, the Greyhounds are coming back fighting mad intent on cleaning up the league this year.

Bill Liston will naturally be majordomo and most of a certainty will usher in the season by driving his band of candidates in daily drills until he can uncover just that right combination. I say "drive" because nothing short of hard, rigorous training and exercise will prepare the players for the tough grind ahead of them. The other State schools enjoy an advantage in that most of their basketball players keep themselves in trim on the gridiron during the fall; whereas Loyola men start from scratch at the first call for candidates. However, by the time the opening game rolls around our boys should be ready for anything and everything.

The coach does not do much talking, but I did succeed in getting him to mumble that prospects for a good season are in the offing, or somewhere. Five players with varsity experience have returned to school and they will form a nucleus for this year's squad. These are: Carney, Wayson, J. Kelly, Ferrarini and Knight. Incidentally, from what I've seen of the new talent, I am wondering whether any of these are sure of first team positions!

* * *

O-Ho, What's This?

I thought I was through with basketball for today, but I just remembered that there will be no Freshman or Junior Varsity team representing the College as heretofore. On the other hand, any student in school not on the varsity squad is eligible for Intramural competition. As before, teams will be confined to members of a class, but a new wrinkle is to be essayed by Father Jacobs. For every home varsity game two intramural teams will be selected to play the preliminary joust of the evening, instead of having the customary Freshman or J. V. game.

This plan has been tried elsewhere but never at Loyola. As to how it will turn out, only the future will tell; but for the present we can only comment and speculate upon it. From the standpoint of the intramuralist, I imagine nothing better could have been proposed. Here is a chance for almost anyone in school to strut his stuff before his public. Moreover, in place of having to second-guess from the stands, he can now apply his gallery knowledge on the floor.

* * *

The Customer Might Kick

From the viewpoint of the A. A., the plan should be very feasible. Primarily, it saves them the time and patience of coaching a junior squad. But, which is more important, it furthers its aim of bigger and better intramurals. After all, who is going to pass up the opportunity of appearing in public—a hero in the eyes of his Gwendolyn (?). Not many, I'm thinking.

Lastly, from the viewpoint of the paying customer, I fear the plan may hit a snag. The ordinary spectator attends basketball games for the purpose of witnessing a game of basketball. I doubt very much if any untutored, untrained team could furnish a brand of ball which is capable of keeping the spectator interested throughout forty minutes of play. Unless said spectator is intimately connected with the college, he won't give a hoot who is playing as long as a good game of basket-ball is being played. Now, we don't want to drive the customers away; for that reason, I want to strongly urge all managers to see to it that their teams are taught at least in the fundamentals of the game. We don't want to see a 10 to 8 game when the score can just as well be 20 to 18.

After all, if intramurals are to be raised in the field of sport at Loyola, it is only fitting that the calibre of play will improve accordingly. And before I forget, medals will be awarded the winners; and they aren't hard on the eyes, believe me.

INTRAMURAL DOUBLES VICTORY GOES TO MCALEER AND DEVLIN

CADELL AND CARNEY LOSE

Superior Stroking Decides Hard Fought Contest In Straight Sets

The Intramural Double's Tournament came to a whirlwind conclusion last Monday when Jim McAleer and Harry Devlin defeated Tom Carney and Willie Cadell by the score of 6—2, 6—0.

Cadell and Carney won their way to the finals by defeating Euker and Cichelli considered to have been the "dark horse" team of the tournament. Euker and Cichelli had previously upset Muth and "Ace" Knight, the single's champion, but the blasting game of the two stars of the Indoor League proved to be too much for them and they went down in straight sets.

McAleer, runner-up for the single's championship, and Devlin also placed themselves in the Finals by defeating a freshman team of promise composed of C. Connor and Broderick.

The calibre of the two surviving teams clearly indicates the battle which took place. Superior stroking and steadier playing in the pinches told the tale, but let no one doubt that the victors knew that they had been in a battle.

The results of the Double's Tournament are as follows:

Quarter Finals

McAleer and Devlin defeated McGreevy and Bracken 6—2, 7—5.

Euker and Cichelli defeated Knight and Muth 6—2, 5—7, 6—3.

Cadell and Carney defeated Kernan and Tillman 6—1, 6—0.

Brokerick and C. Connor—Bye.)

Semi-Finals

McAleer and Devlin defeated C. Connor and Broderick 6—3, 6—3.

Cadell and Carney defeated Euker and Cichelli 6—4, 6—2.

Finals

McAleer and Devlin defeated Carney and Cadell 6—2, 6—0.

—————o—————

Incidentally, Sam Piraro and Vince DiStefano are playing for University of Baltimore and old Andy Horne has matriculated at G.W.U., where he is playing on the line. Belden Burns, former Loyola back, is now lugging the leather for St. John's.

Indoor Baseball Crown Goes To Victor In Playoffs This Week

Senior A. B. Team To Battle Clouting Junior A. B. Club Despite Previous Defeat

The Championship of the Intramural Baseball League is at stake this week when the Junior A.B., team meets the Senior A.B. in the first round playoff.

The Juniors boast a fine record having won five games and tied one while the Seniors have won the same number of games and lost one for the second place. The Junior A.B., behind the pitching of Tom Carney, being a hard hitting club, have already beaten "Otts" Kelly's Senior A.B. team by the score of 2-0, during the regular league season. Regardless of the former game, when these two nines meet for the Championship a real battle should be in store.

Final Standing of the League:

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Junior A.B.	5	0	1	1.000
Senior A.B.	5	1	0	.833
Junior B.S.	2	1	2	.667
Senior B.S.	3	2	0	.600
Sophs.	1	3	2	.250
Frosh A.B.	1	4	1	.200
Frosh B.S.	0	6	0	.000

—————o—————

JUNIOR TEAM DEFEATS SENIORS IN BASEBALL

With the standing of the Intramural Baseball League at stake, the Junior A.B. team defeated the Senior B. S., by the score of 2—1 in the hardest fought encounter of the week.

The result of the game shows what type of ball the rival teams played. The Juniors, easily hitting Will Ferrarini, piled up an early lead of two runs with Carney and Marszal scoring, but in the later innings, with men on base, they could not score again.

The greatest thrill of the game came when, with Kennedy on base, Matricciani hit a long drive down the first base line, scoring his team-mate. But on a beautiful throw home, Matricciani was out at the plate and the Seniors lost their only chance. The Juniors played "air-tight" ball behind the pitching of Tom Carney and from the form they showed will very likely be favorites to capture the title.

The Line up:

Senior B.S.	Junior A.B.
Matricciani ...1b.....	Powers
Dolle2b.....	Marszal
GromackiSS.....	Cadell
Kennedy3b.....	Smith
Muthlf....	Niemoeeller
Cichellicf.....	Murphy
Zinkandrf.....	O'Donnell
McAleerc.....	Riciutti
Ferrarinip.....	Carney

JUNE GRADUATES PICK VARIOUS BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS

MANY PURSUITS INCLUDED

Graduate Students Numerous At Local Medical And New Institutions

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4)
Tanneyhill, former center on the Loyola quint, are now working with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Don D'Ambrogi, is now studying bacteriology at the University of Maryland. Ed Molz is working in bacteriology with the City Health Department.

In the industrial field we must not overlook James Flynn and Christian Kamka. Jim is working at the Federal Tin Company, while Chris is employed by the American Tin Company.

Eddie O'Hare and Nelson Peach are attending Johns Hopkins University. Eddie is studying electrical engineering, while Nelson is going further on in the field of economics. Strayer's Business College has claimed Bob Peddicord, Phil Windfelder, and Joe Feeney. There should be a hot time in Ten Hills next Fourth of July, because Phil is working at the National Fireworks Company in his spare time.

Paul Kircher, a third of that famous trio of Kircher, Lee, and Lambdin, has a position with the Maryland Glass Company. Pat Phelan is employed in a downtown brokerage office.

"Plushie" Plummer, the style baron of '35, is now working with the Sun Life Insurance Company. Tom Farley is studying insurance while working with the Maryland Casualty Company. Of course, Joe Moran is still working with The Baltimore Sun. Greg Kane, former associate editor of the Greyhound is on the advertising staff of the News-Post. Joe May stepped from the portals of Evergreen to Loyola High School. Joe is now teaching Math at Blakefield.

Jimmy Krautblatter also is in the sporting goods business, being employed by the Schrieber and Jones Sporting Goods Company. Henry Roeser is in the produce business with his father. Bruce Biggs is working for the Baltimore Transit Company.

In conclusion, to the above mentioned men and to all those from whom we have not heard, we wish success to each and every one of them in their respective businesses and studies.

JOHN HASSLINGER

Famous Crab Cakes

Special Price to Clubs, Churches, Card Parties

Call, Wolfe 3618

FATHER SCHMITT ANNOUNCES CHEMISTRY LECTURE PROGRAM

DR. MARTIN SPEAKS TODAY

New Librarians For Chemists' Club Appointed By Head Of Chemistry Dept.

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2)

ton V. Posche, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Inorganic Chemistry at the University of Maryland. Dr. Posche will present an illustrated lecture on "Dental Alloys, Old and New". This will take place on February 18.

"Some Remarkable Properties of High Explosives" will be the subject of Dr. Robert W. Wood, Ph.D., LL.D., F.R.S., Professor of Experimental Physics and Chairman of the Department of Physics at Johns Hopkins University. Dr. Wood is also president of the America Physics Society.

On April 28, Dr. Francis Owen Rice, D.Sc., Associate Professor of Chemistry at Johns Hopkins University, will return to Loyola to lec-

STUDENT COUNCIL REORGANIZES AT FIRST MEETING OF MEMBERS

FRANK MUTH IS PRESIDENT

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1)

The Freshman representatives have not yet been chosen.

The ex-officio members, in addition to Mr. Muth, are: Arthur Kelly, manager of basketball; Guy Matriciani, manager of baseball; Eugene Jendrek, Editor of the Greyhound; and the Prefect of the Sodality.

ture on "The Chemistry of the Aliphatic Radicals."

Appointees

Father Schmitt has also announced that the librarians for the Chemists Club for the coming year will be Messrs. Robert H. Conant, '37, Michael L. DeVincentis, '37, and John C. Osborne, '37. The class representatives will be Messrs. John J. Dinan, '36, Bernard B. Lochte, '37, William F. Malooly, '38, and Louis A. Scholz, '39.

SYMPATHY

On behalf of the Faculty and student body we extend our sympathy to the family of Mrs. Mabel K. Dill, who died last week. Mrs. Dill was the mother of F. Kennard Dill, '36, a member of the Greyhound staff.

Also we offer our sympathy to Joseph Lochner, '39, on the recent death of his father.

FIRST MEETING OF THOMPSON SOCIETY HELD AT NOTRE DAME

SR. M. FRANCES, PRESIDENT

On October 11, the Francis Thompson Catholic Poetry Society of Baltimore held the first meeting of its fall course at the College of Notre Dame of Maryland. Mr. Joseph C. Kelly, S.J., of the Loyola Faculty and Mr. Edwin Gehring, '38, will hold offices again this year.

The Presidency was vacated by Mr. Kelley to Sister M. Frances of Notre Dame. The Vice-presidency, which Sister Frances left unfilled was assumed by Mr. Kelley. Mr.

ALUMNI MEMBERS PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF FATHER OOGHE

ATTEND MASS IN CHAPEL

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)

mony was performed in the presence of the congregation, which consisted of many friends of Father Ooghe and Loyola in addition to the alumni.

Gehring was reelected as Treasurer. Miss Gwendolyn Aumann, of Notre Dame, retained her office of Secretary.

Sister M. Angelina of the Notre Dame Faculty, read a paper entitled:

"Horns of Elfland, Faintly Blowing."

Besides Mr. Kelly and Mr. Gehring, Loyola was represented by Mr. McClure, '38, and Mr. Henneberry, '37.

FATHER CHARLES CONNOR, S. J. GIVES RETREAT TO STUDENTS

WAS WORLD WAR CHAPLAIN

Relates His Experiences To Illustrate Subjects Of Discourses

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5)

numerous quotations from Scripture and the literary masters for illustrative purposes. As a result, his talks were deeply interesting and his delivery very forceful.

Differing from the procedure of other years, all the retreat exercises were conducted in the chapel. The retreat was brought to a close on Friday morning with the reception of Holy Communion in a body, followed by breakfast in the Alumni Gymnasium.

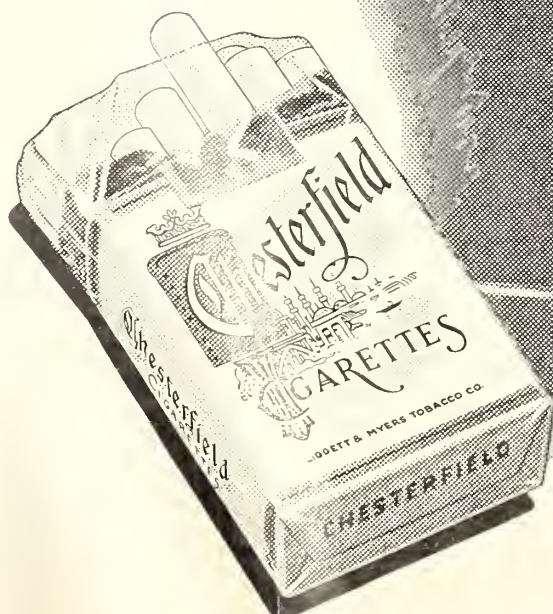

Telephone: UNIVERSITY 3500

GEO. J. STORCK & SON

LUMBER

Sash, Doors, Blinds, Flooring, Wallboard, etc.
2406-18 GREENMOUNT AVENUE

Of course, I'm just getting them in case the boys should call—

They do say they're milder and taste better — and I've heard tell they satisfy